Energy waste is big news! The government is committed to reducing CO₂ emissions by 20% by 2010. As part of this commitment, changes to building regulations has meant that new or replacement windows have to meet certain standards. eCare Energy Rated, Camden's range of energy efficient windows, has been designed with this in mind. The eCare Energy Rated window range stops heat from inside the home escaping, while letting heat from the sun into the room: the result is savings on fuel bills and reduced energy waste.
